 Question to Jason: Could there be a lunch'n'learn opportunity for teachers on neurodiversity?
 A: That would need to be based on interest from staff
6. DPAC Update	SH	7:00-7:15
 First 30 minutes of the meeting aren't as exciting, but everyone should come to the rest of the meetings - there's always an interesting presenter. So far this year there has been a speaker on food security, and also dyslexia. Sara H will circulate an announcement when the next meeting is happening for those who might be interested in the next presentation. SLOs: Change is that SLOs will sometimes be in elementary schools, but only on an invite basis. If you are upset about the SLO program, Trustees are the ones to complain to, as it's not a school decision. A Know Your Rights document is being put together targeting older children If anyone is interested in changes to how Elementary Choice Programs are decided, there is movement to change this process. Connect with Sara to find out more
7. Gardening Committee Update	тн	7:15-7:16
 Got a grant from Whole Foods to build more gardening boxes Will be working with Jason
8. Class Reps/Class Parents	SO	7:16-17:17
 Currently there are 260 children out of 470ish students in the school Some classes have almost no one on the list because they have another system set up (such as What's App) Email the PAC if you want to get on the list
9. Principal's Report	JE	7:17-7:36
Jason's been here for six weeks and has dived right in. Relationships are core to Jason's approach to administration and has enjoyed getting to know the kids and families at Nelson. Jason feels values are aligned with the PAC and the various committees. The number of parents who are present and engaged with Nelson is fantastic.
 Social Media Talk (Jessy Wollen, Shift Education) Was well received and students were engaged, presenter did a great job targeting information appropriate to the age of the audience Jessy is coming back in January for a second presentation There may be a parent presentation tied to the January talk SLO Program Any SLO/VPD involvement will only take place by invitation. Jason isn't seeing any particular need to have that service available at Nelson. If there were an extenuating circumstance in which it made sense to consider having a police officer in, there would be consultation first. SLO engagement will be minimal at best. Slides/Grounds Got them open several times, but not yet all-day every day until they have greater supervision. Trying to wear out the novelty worn out Winter concert Back to back shows! Full houses anticipated

Q&A With Jason:
 What kind of limits are put on kids using the school devices? Teachers try to limit how much work is on done on the devices; most of it is research-based, curriculum-focused subjects There are filters on the system (set up by the VSB) that block out a lot of the questionable content, but nothing is perfect Broken door in Division 7: There are several shattered glass panels. There's a massive back order on glass/windows right now. There's a waitlist.
 Accessible Door Issue (for inner courtyard): A work order request was submitted over the summer. VSB has agreed to pay for it and it's in the queue, but it will be 5-6 months before it happens 	or
 10. Communications / Other items Apples Update Some folks got boxes of apples in the second run that were in terrible shape - bruised, rotten, or rodent-eaten. Only about 8 people were affected, but the Apple guy was horrified. The apples were kept in a third-party refrigerated storage who apparently has a rodent issue. The Apple guy has offered a refund or replacements for those impacted Mice issues in the school: This will always be an issue in Vancouver. For the most part it's not too bad at the moment. 	тн	7:36-7:42
